Company Mission & Purpose Statement

Mission Statement:

Mission Statement: We endeavour to be the systematic and long-lasting, positive change that the electronic music industry has sought to pursue, but has always failed to live up to, never mind to acknowledge or better yet to become.

In the shadow of the old world, a new and emerging dawning era of the DIY electronic artist has begun to be born, so we seek to provide the ultimate holistic, well-being and supporting structures that any and every artist should expect from a 360-degree artist management company that is operational within a professional, global, music landscape regardless of gender, age, religious beliefs, sexuality or financial standing. Genuine creativity and long-term healthy success cannot be leveraged off the backs of turning artists into AI machines, for all great partnerships require real and focused balance from all sides.

To renew the drive for harmonic equality, to force positive change, to fight for industrial parity, to lay to rest the burning injustices that continue to persist inside of the universal language. Giving genuine hope and aspiration back to the global youth which has been continually siphoned off over the years by corporate and political suits.

We aim to unite the lost and the hopeless, taking them on a spiritual journey of awakening, where we can once again revel and promote today's authentic story as a narrative and as a vehicle for those dreamers right around the globe, who wish for a brighter tomorrow. Empowering genuine blue sky thinkers, musicians, team players, technical and creative visionaries and honest, passionate entrepreneurs to help us create our new world order where talent always outshines and we remain steadfast in our determination to continually innovate and to force change from within.

Purpose Statement:

Ensuring we leave this world in a far healthier, more creatively educated and socially engaged place than we found it.

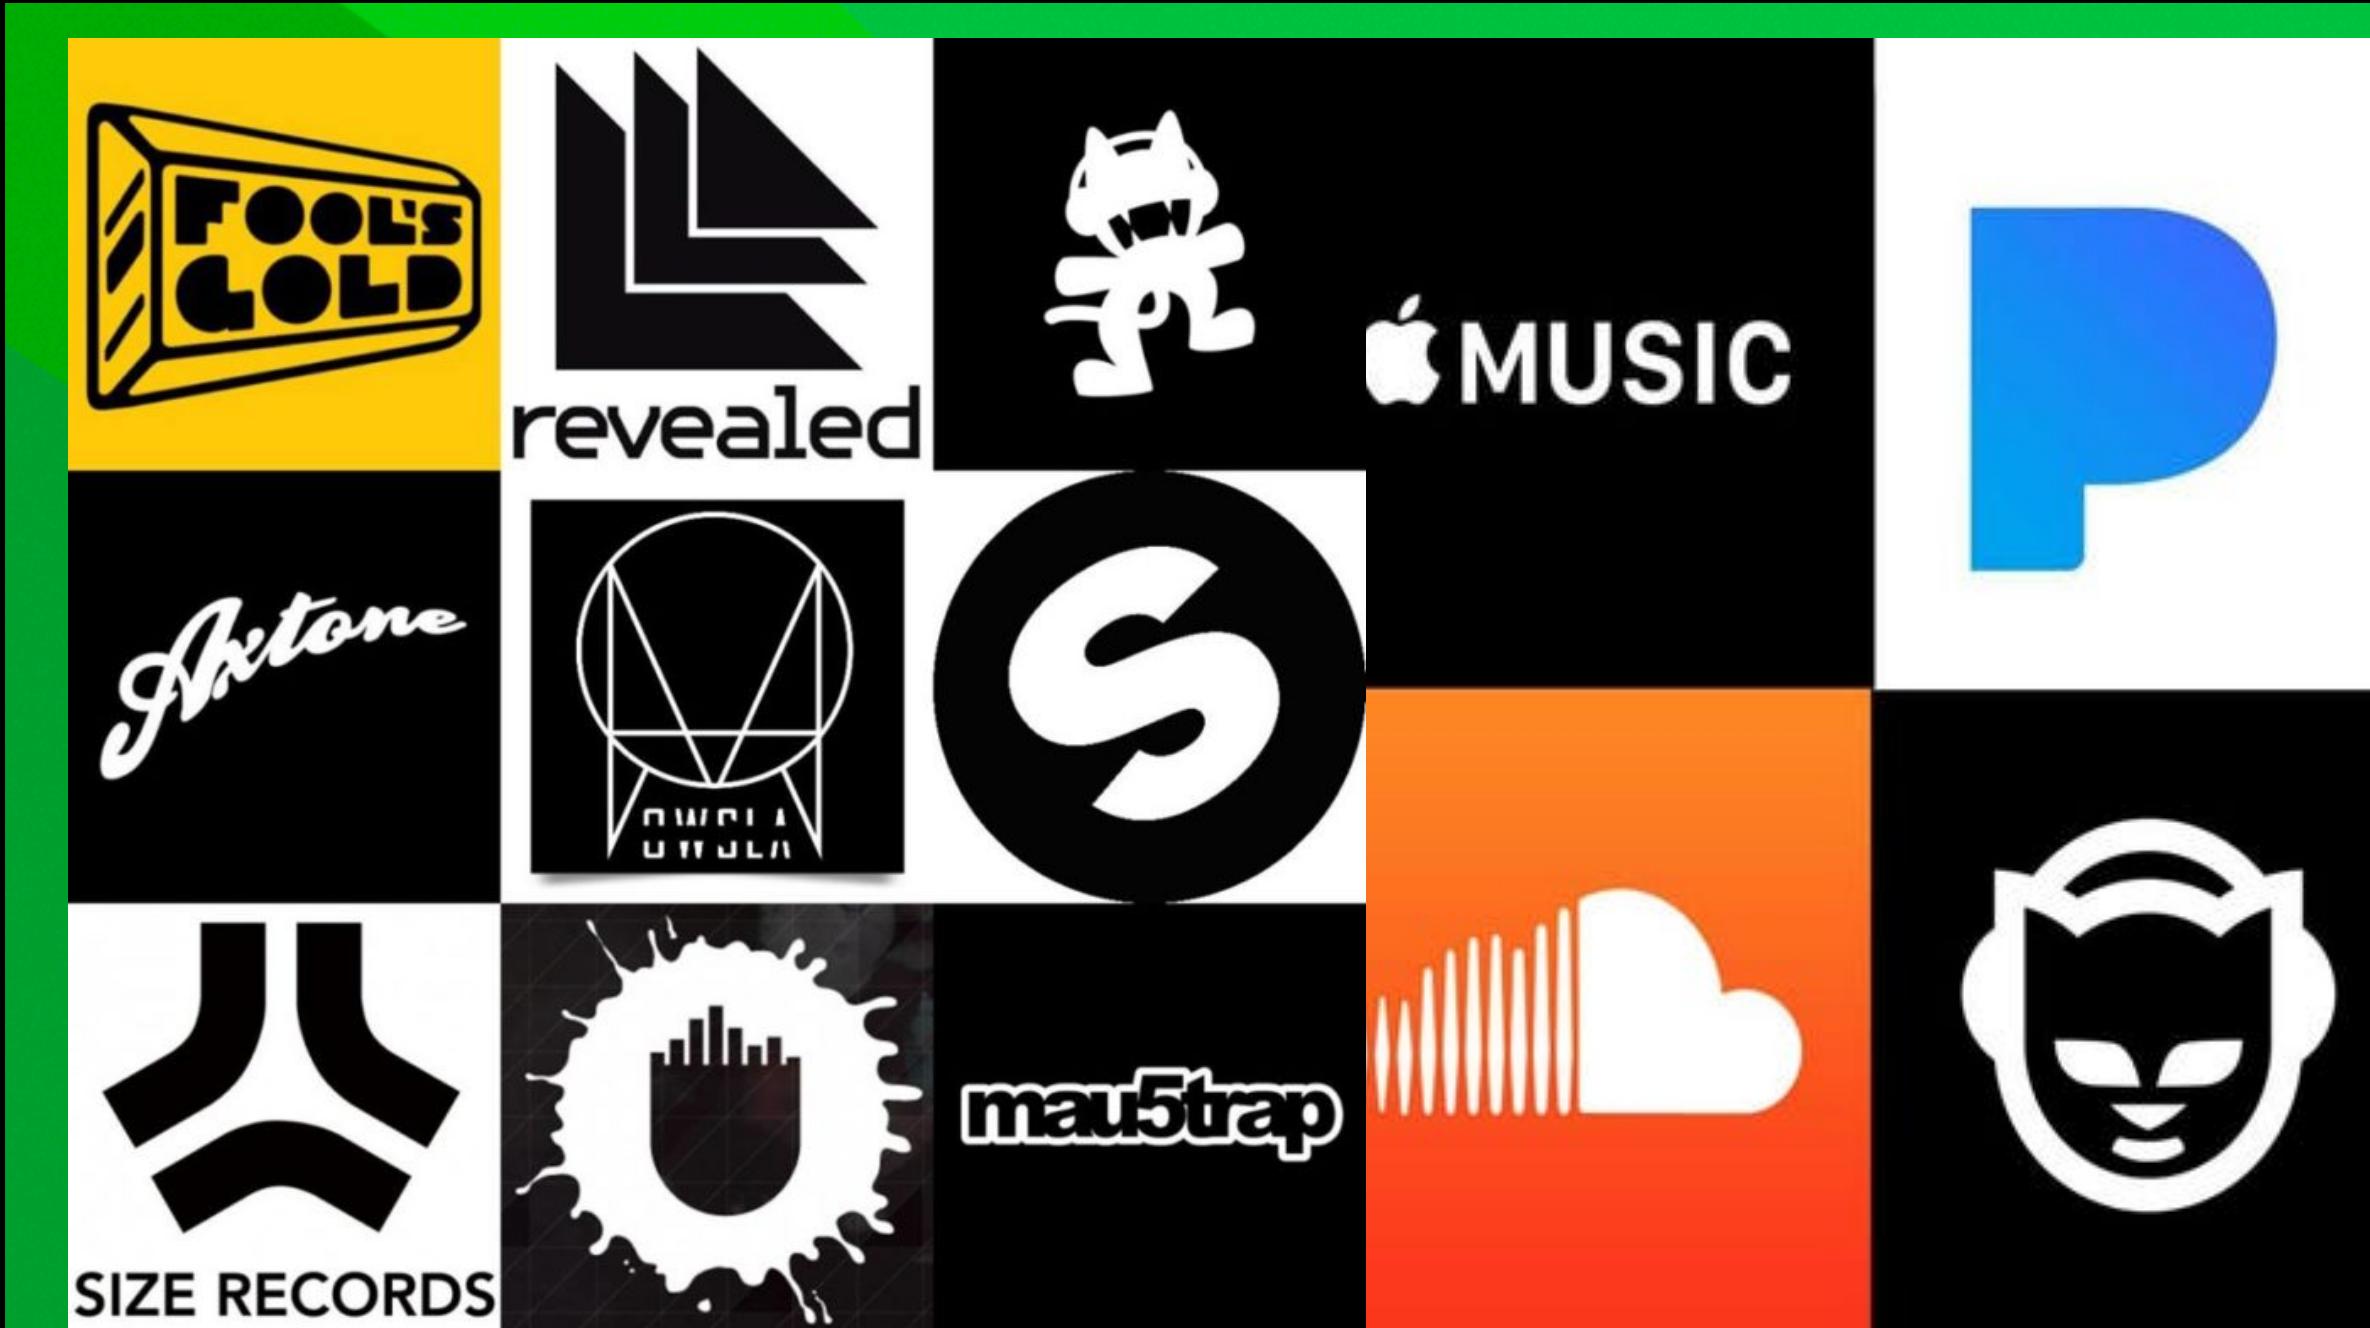

We thoroughly support unique creative talents from every corner of society particularly from diverse ethnic minorities or less socially mobile communities that exist internationally, while carefully managing our company's carbon footprint collectively to ensure we limit the damage caused to the planet. We seek to achieve this by democratising and humanising corporate governance as well as strategically targeting industry best practices, looking to continually innovate from within so that it resonates with the ecosystem around us.

Craft Your Identity: Be the Virtuoso of Your Journey

At the Evolved Music Group we have over nine years worth of top-level, industry presence and experience. We ignite the essence of collaboration and proactive drive, the cornerstones of a triumphant voyage. To artists daring to conquer the scene, we implore, do not to compromise your artistic evolution for a futile endeavor to cover all realms. Casting a wide net rarely succeeds. Instead, we urge you to channel your focus, fuel your determination, and gather a team that ceaselessly cultivates your international brand. In the symphony of the music industry, these principles compose the overture of enduring triumph.

Recipe For Artistic Success

Ceding Control: Empower the Experienced for Mastery

Before embracing our international embrace at Evolved, consider two queries: Is time your ally or adversary? Do you truly aspire to stand shoulder to shoulder with the industry giants, resonating across the globe? These queries unveil your character, vision, and appetite for achievement, guiding our collaboration toward transformative advancement.

Recognizing your time constraints and yearning for profound artistic growth, we aim to enhance your path, forging a trajectory aligned with your aspirations.

Navigating Risk: The Quantum Leap in Creativity

Stepping into the enigmatic realm of creativity demands a profound understanding - something Team Evolved possesses inherently. With our 15+ years entrenched in the electronic dance music domain, we've curated an ensemble of remarkably gifted music professionals, primed to unravel the infinite dimensions of your talent. We orchestrate genuine, authentic campaigns, each a symphony of brilliance, sculpting your global impact with masterful precision.

Charting the Evolution: Unveil Your Destiny

In the unending tapestry of success, what crucial elements compose the rhythm of consistent growth, worldwide fandom, and promoter allure?

Soaring singles and collaborations on streaming platforms (monthly releases).

Claim Your Artistic Realm: Unveil the Future

Here at Evolved as you know we recognise and value the integrity and imposition of every single creative artist that exists and knocks on our door. This is why this offer is a bespoke, uber comprehensive, label services, artist management and development process that covers everything from branding, redesign, social media management and ideation and execution through to A&R support and guidance, record label services and submissions, collaboration contracts, singer/songwriter collab options, through to record label contract support and guidance and publishing deal submissions, international artist visa processing support, general day to day artist management, international artist bookings, tour itinerary, sponsorship and endorsement deal management through to record label setup and management. There is very little that we don't actually specialise in except things such as radio plugging and accountancy.

In a world intertwined with melodies and pixels, your evolution awaits. At Evolved, the future you seek is not a distant constellation but a constellation within your grasp. Seize the moment, embrace the symphony, and unfurl the banner of your unbridled artistic endeavour.
